

The only EPOS system in the industry to be developed and run solely for the benefit of BA members.

Why we're the UK leader in bookshop systems

Designed for booksellers, BatchLine POS is intuitive and easy to use and Open Bravo till software comes as standard.

See price and availability from Gardners, Hachette, Ingram Wholesale UK and Macmillan (MDL) with more to come!

Easy buying Search for titles then build and send an electronic order to Gardners from within BatchLine.

Direct ordering is available for over a dozen leading UK and Irish suppliers, putting you in control of where to source stock.

Integrate with National Book Tokens and Dojo for a seamless customer experience and to eradicate costly keying errors.

Easy returns Integration with our free Batch Returns system keeps stock current, making your shelf space work harder.

Build connections Reward customers with our fully integrated gift and loyalty card scheme.

Flexible with fair pricing With BatchLine, you aren't tied into a contract and the subscription fee is based on the number of installations you need at your shop.

What our customers say

"BatchLine development is focused on the commercial priorities of booksellers."

"...keeps track of the stock, does some clever integrated magic that imports new titles from Gardners and also allows us to re-order directly from sales."

"The very best part about BatchLine are the people behind the screen: the techy wizards we never see, who keep all the hamsters running on the right wheels."

"...handles our complex requirements wonderfully: adaptable, reliable, with an easy-to-use interface."

"A stock control system with bookselling at its heart."
